INTERPRETATION BOUNDARIES

- Intelligence Advantage is a transparent weighted multi-signal heuristic; it is not a win probability or a trained forecasting model.
- Recent Momentum uses only the selected rolling window and can differ materially from cumulative full-match indicators such as xG or shot volume.
- Territory and progression are event-derived measures and do not represent continuous optical-tracking possession or control.
- Tactical-shift signals describe changes in recorded event behaviour and should not be treated as confirmed coaching instructions or formation changes.
